Managing compliance in expanding markets using a common technical platform.

The automotive industry is challenged by risk from new markets, product lines and operating regions. NQC helps to understand these risks, so your supply chain meets the international standards which consumers expect from your brand.

Our technology is flexible; able to consider regional compliance and risk, as well as the individual standards of brands that need to innovate. We have collected and validated data from Europe, The Americas and Asia, supporting suppliers with our multilingual team.

That's why our platform has been adopted by OEMs including BMW Group; Volkswagen Group; Daimler AG; Scania and Volvo Cars.
